

New printing technique

Ionic printing is a new printing technique applicable on USB models with an aluminium surface. This printing technique is compatible for the following models MO1014, MO1025, MO1036, MO1051 and MO1101. Maximum two colour print.

The USB model MO1101 is a colourful version of the most popular USB memory stick MO1001. The big difference between these two models is the material of the sliding part. The MO1001 has a metal sliding part, but the MO1101 has an aluminium sliding part. Therefore these two models have different printing technique possibilities. Ionic printing is perfect option for the model MO1101.
