

Revamped www.pens.co.uk Now LIVE!

“We are always looking at ways of giving back to the trade and you will be delighted to know we have revamped our site www.pens.co.uk to create awareness for our products in the market with the view of generating business for our distributors.”

Here's how the new site will benefit you...

- 🏠 Gain exposure to new customers - When you place an order you can leave a review by the product including a link to your website. The next time somebody searches for this product they will see your details and website.
- 🏠 Have your voice heard by new customers - We are posting at least one News Article to the site every day of the week so why not make a comment on the article where you can also leave a link to your website.

“Modernising our website is just one way we are helping to drive business for the trade, we are here to help our distributors exploit the full potential of our vibrant product range.”
